

Usher Syndrome Type 3

Video description: Kevin (a male with short brown hair and black collared shirt) sits in front of a dark blue background, looks into the camera and signs.

TRANSCRIPT: Hi! Today, we're going to focus on USH3. Are you ready?? USH 3 is very interesting and quite rare! People with USH3 are born hearing and sighted. They have "normal" vision and hearing and then they progressively lose both! This may not happen simultaneously - one could progress faster than the other. Again - there is diversity within the group. Usher type 3 is unique in that the gene is more common in two different ethnic groups: people of Jewish and Finnish heritage. Fascinating, right??
